Jennifer - 41 Year Old Certified Psychological Counselor From Nashville, TN

"I need keep in touch with my patient; They should gather their own information!"

Personal Background
Jennifer began her career in the counseling field in 1982 when she worked as a career consultant for a psychological testing and consulting firm in Nashville, Tennessee. She is now a licensed counselor who devotes half her practice to psychotherapy and the rest to career testing and counseling.

Jennifer also holds certification as a rehabilitation counselor. She helps people adjust after a life-changing event such as an accident, addiction recovery, and loss of a loved one, divorce, mental or physical illness, job loss or other life transition. She has 6 years' experience working in hospitals with patients after catastrophic injury, helping them to return to their previous jobs whenever possible, or to create new career paths with the help of vocational testing and assistive technology.

Jennifer wants to review her patients' information during the busy time; she needs a mobile App integrated with all her patients' information in the all-in-one interface. She always needs went to some remote area to interview her patients, she need to know the position of her patient (with their permission) as a guide to make a visit route plan.
